INDIANA TEEN WINS DRIVE SAFE CHICAGO DRUNK DRIVING PSA CHALLENGE

Public voted to pick winner from three finalists; Wins $2,000 from The National Road Safety Foundation and his video to be broadcast nationwide

CHICAGO, Feb. 17, 2020 -- Logan Ozdyck, 18, a senior at Porter County Career Center in Valparaiso, IN, has won the sixth annual Drive Safe Chicago PSA Challenge, sponsored by The National Road safety Foundation in partnership with the Chicago Auto Show. Teens from Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana were invited to submit ideas for a TV public service message about the dangers of drunk driving, which killed 10,511 people in 2018.

Three finalists were selected in blind judging where entrants' names and schools were not known to the judges, and an Emmy-winning director came from New York to work with the students at their school to film their ideas and make them into finished 30-second TV spots. The public was then invited to vote online for their favorite. Nearly 12,000 votes were cast.

Ozdyck's video, called "Get a Ride," garnered 5,705 votes online.

The other finalists were Maya Vickrey, 17, who placed second with 5,598 votes and won $1,000, and Ethan Fragoso, 18, who placed third and won $500. All live in Valparaiso and attend the Porter County Career Center. Bob Phelps, their teacher, has had students who have been finalists or winners in all five previous Drive Safe Chicago challenges. In addition to receiving a $2,000 prize from The National Road Safety Foundation, a non-profit group that promotes safe driving, the winner's message debuts today on the video wall at the Chicago Auto Show before airing nationwide on more than 160 TV stations on the syndicated TV program Teen Kids News.

“We thank all three students who were finalists in the Drive Safe Chicago challenge for their compelling scripts that we hope will remind all drivers of the dangers of drinking and driving,” said Michelle Anderson of The National Road Safety Foundation. “We also commend their teacher Bob Phelps for his guidance and inspiration, this year and in the past.”

“Today’s new cars are safer than ever, with many features and technology to avoid crashes and keep occupants safe in the event of a crash,” said Tony Guido, 2020 Chicago Auto Show chairman. “But ultimately, drivers must be responsible to make the right decision when it comes to drinking and driving. That’s the important message we hope will be conveyed by these teens’ public service ads.”

Nearly one out of five teen drivers involved in fatal crashes had been drinking, says the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The National Road Safety Foundation, Inc. (NRSF), a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization founded nearly 60 years ago, produces traffic safety programs on distracted driving, speed and aggression, impaired driving, drowsy driving, driver proficiency, pedestrian safety and a host of other safety issues. It distributes the programs free of charge to schools, police and traffic safety advocates, community groups and individuals. It also sponsors contests to engage teens in promoting safe driving to their peers and in their communities.
